

Committee Takes Up Tax Cut Possibility

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Ways and Means Committee, which would handle any legislation for a tax cut, agreed today to begin closed hearings Thursday on the state of the economy.

It was understood that public hearings would be conducted later if the closed hearings, and any recommendations from President Kennedy, result in a tax-reducing bill.

The closed hearings will continue for about a week with witnesses appearing by invitation. These are expected to include spokesmen for business, labor, farm groups and government, as well as academic economists.

The decision to hold this round of hearings behind closed doors apparently was designed to keep from unduly building up tax-cut pressure on the committee, which was described as genuinely uncommitted.

President Kennedy has said he will recommend a net income tax reduction some time in the future. Most recent indications are that the President will make up his mind whether or not to recommend a quick tax cut about the middle of August.

Considerable sentiment has built up in Congress for a tax cut at this session.

Assistant Senate Democratic leader Hubert H. Humphrey says a majority of the Senate favors it.

Jury Rules for Defendant in Slander Suit

A Hempstead County jury late Friday took only a few minutes to rule in favor of the Rev. Lacie Rowe, pastor of the Gospel Light-house Church who was sued for slander by Mrs. Gracie Dunlap.

The decision climaxed a two-day trial in which witnesses were heard. The case arose from a church dispute involving the marriage of the defendant to Mr. Dunlap, a marriage to which the Rev. Mr. Rowe objected.

Welfare Folks Can Earn $30 Per Month

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus announced today that Congress has passed legislation to permit welfare recipients to earn up to $30 a month without affecting their grants.

Faubus made the announcement from his fifth term campaign headquarters where he spent the morning working with his campaign leaders.

The governor noted he had recommended federal legislation to permit welfare clients to earn up to $50 a month, but he appeared satisfied with the $30 law, which he said was ready for President Kennedy's signature.

"This is the most needed improvement in the welfare system in my opinion," Faubus told newsmen.

The law, as he explained it, would also permit welfare clients to receive gifts up to $30 a month, if they have no income.

Faubus said his welfare commissioner, Carl Adams, played a significant role in bringing the need for such a law to national attention. He said Adams succeeded in obtaining the endorsement of a national agency of state welfare directors for the proposal.

Faubus said he received word from Washington today that the bill had passed. He said Reps. Wilbur Mills and J. W. Trimble were instrumental in pushing it to passage.

The governor said the new law may make a few more older persons eligible for welfare benefits, but he had no estimate of how many would be affected.

Induction Order for Jas. McClure

Selective Service Local Board No. 29, Hope, has mailed orders to report for induction to James Leo McClure on August 7, 1962.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The countdown has begun in the Arkansas Democratic gubernatorial primary, with the election only a week from Tuesday.

And with it is a promise of a continued torrid campaign equaling or outdoing the hot July weather.

Most candidates took a breather Sunday after the grueling pace of the day before. Today the busy itineraries resumed.

Saturday, Vernon Whitten, Kenneth Coffelt and Sid McMath spoke at a Pine Bluff rally. Gov. Orval E. Faubus spoke in Batesville and Dale Alford addressed a North Little Rock rally after a television appearance in Little Rock. Cox made no major talks.

The Pine Bluff rally produced promises by McMath that if elected he would go to Washington and even to the President if necessary to secure old-age benefits and river development funds for the state. Whitten declared that he is not conceding second place in the race to McMath, though that is probably what Faubus wants. Coffelt vowed that the governor had erred in calling him (Coffelt) "entertaining," and said he would give Faubus plenty of entertainment during a runoff after the July 31 primary.

At Batesville, Faubus reviewed several facets of his administration—industry, welfare, education—while chiding his opponents.

He again maintained that McMath would be his principal opponent in the primary Tuesday week and linked him once more with horse racing at Hot Springs. Speaking before a crowd of about 1,500, he renewed his attacks on the Arkansas Gazette and dismissed the remainder of his opponents as not being important in the race.

Cox was arrested in Harrisburg and charged with disturbing the peace by brandishing a gun on the streets of Weiner, his home town. He was released on $250 bond. Last Thursday, the candidate was arrested at Springdale on a charge of public drunkenness and forfeited a $150 bond.

Alford issued one of his most vigorous attacks on Faubus and McMath. He made a 30-minute talk over a Little Rock television station, then sped to the Levy section of North Little Rock for a rally.

Alford termed the Faubus administration "the most corrupt in the history of Arkansas" and said that the governor and McMath were political allies.

He repeated that he had once been a supporter of Faubus but has split with him because he no longer stands by the people.

He said McMath trained Faubus and that the two are identical in their political philosophies. Neither, he said, should have another term in the governor's office.

Faubus attended an open house at his headquarters at the Marion hotel in Little Rock Sunday. Tonight he was to be at Benton for a television broadcast.

McMath had scheduled hand-shaking visits to Arkadelphia, Gurdon, Amity and Trinity, then was to return to Little Rock to tape television talks.

Whitten said he felt there is a need for flexibility during the last week of the campaign, therefore was releasing no definite schedule. He was to speak in Little Rock at noon Tuesday and El Dorado that night.

The itineraries of Coffelt, Alford and Cox were not released.

Baptist Youth Revival Is Offered

"I'd Rather Have Jesus," is the theme of an 8-day youth revival campaign which opened Sunday at First Baptist Church and will continue each night through next Sunday.

The evangelistic team is led by Larry Taylor of Little Rock. An outstanding senior student of Ouachita College and also accompanied by Woody Buckner, song leader of Hot Springs who majored in voice at Ouachita. The third member of the team is Miss Sonja Joy Darymple, pianist of Searcy and a music major at Ouachita.

Evangelist Larry Taylor is booked for five consecutive weeks of revival campaigning which will take him to other parts of Arkansas and ending the fifth week in the nation's capital, Washington, D.C.

In his opening remarks Sunday, he challenged the Youth of Hope as well as the adults to attend each service nightly at 7:30.

"This is not a youth revival — but a youth-led revival," he declared and "we need the adults each night as well as the youth of Hope."

His Sunday morning sermon revolved around the story to Moses who led two and a half million people out of bondage and slavery in Israel only to have the people "balk on God and spend 40 years in the wilderness."

He compared that sad and tragic story to modern days by saying that many people, including Christians, were unproductive in their church life.

"Instead of striving for new heights for God and spiritual victories, we have great multitudes of people who are floundering hopelessly in the barren wilderness as did the people of the days of Moses."

He urged his congregation to support the revival team by prayers, by visits, by attendance. A period of fellowship and discussion will be held each night, following service in Fellowship Hall of the church.

Committee Balloting Is Underway

Nominees have been selected for ASC committeemen elections in all the agricultural communities of the county, according to Claude Self, chairman of the ASC County Committee. Elections will be held by mail ballot.

In discussing eligibility to vote, the chairman said that all persons in each community who are eligible to participate in ASC-administered programs and are of legal voting age and are interested in a farm as owner, tenant or shareholder, or are not of legal voting age but have charge of the operation of a farm, are eligible to vote.

The ASC committees are very important in the administration of the various action programs affecting farmers. The chairman urged that farmers show their interest in the programs by voting in the elections.

In addition to electing community committeemen, farmers will also be electing delegates to the convention where members of the county ASC committee will be elected. The five farmers in each community election receiving the highest number of votes, in order, will be elected as follows:

Chairman and delegate to the county convention; vice-chairman and first alternate delegate; regular member and second alternate delegate, first and second alternate.

Nominees for the community elections were selected by petition of farmers or by present community committeemen. Ballots will be mailed to all known eligible farmers in the county, and must be mailed or returned in person to the ASC Office not later than August 2. Eligible voters calling at the ASC county office may cast their vote there.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy told an American-European audience on live television Monday that "I cannot report progress" toward a Berlin settlement with the Soviet Union and that is a "source of concern and danger to us all."

"We hope that an accord can be reached, we will continue to try to reach one, but we have not made progress recently," Kennedy said.

The chief executive's words were carried direct to all America and to 16 European nations, including Communist Yugoslavia, in an unprecedented telecast via the Telstar satellite.

The President said that the relaying of his words by Telstar "is another indication of the kind of world in which we live."

27 Persons Die, in Airliner Crash at Honolulu Port

HONOLULU (AP)—Twenty-seven persons, including two infants, died today when a disabled Canadian Pacific turbo-jet airliner with 40 persons aboard crashed and burned in an emergency landing attempt.

The Federal Aviation Agency said the big Britannia aircraft which originated in Vancouver B.C., was en route to Sydney, Australia, and Auckland, New Zealand, via Honolulu when one of engines apparently failed shortly after takeoff here.

The craft left Honolulu International Airport with 29 passengers and 11 crewmen and returned about 45 minutes later after the pilot dumped fuel over the Pacific in preparation for the landing.

D. J. Tierney, FAA spokesman, said the plane approached the runway for a normal landing on three engines at 11:19 p.m. But then skidded into a mass of grading equipment nearby, the fuselage snapped and the engines burst into flames.

Wreckage was strewn over an area the size of a football field. The condition of the survivors, who were taken to nearby Hickham Air Force Base Hospital, was not immediately known.

The FAA said the pilot notified its control tower he was cutting off one of the engines soon after takeoff. He requested and was granted permission to dump fuel for the emergency landing, officials said. Tierney said when the aircraft approached the runway it suddenly veered to its left.

HONOLULU (AP) — Twenty-five persons were killed today when a huge Canadian Pacific passenger airliner carrying 40 persons crashed and exploded at Honolulu International Airport, the Federal Aviation Agency reported.

A mass of tangled wreckage was scattered over the sprawling runway area.

There was no immediate report on the condition of the 15 survivors, who were hospitalized at nearby Hickham Air Force Base.

The airliner was headed for Sydney, Australia, when it apparently developed mechanical trouble.

The FAA said the plane, flight 301, departed from Sydney from Honolulu at 10:35 p.m. HST and developed engine trouble an hour later over the Pacific. It turned around and headed for Honolulu.

The airliner approached the runway for a normal landing on three engines. It then skidded off the runway and nosed into a mass of bulldozers and other grading equipment adjacent to the runway.

Parts of the craft were sheared off on impact, the fuselage broke off and the engines burst into flames.

Live Telecast Beamed Today From Telstar

WASHINGTON (AP) — American engineers beam a live telecast of President Kennedy's news conference to European homes today through the magic of the Telstar communications satellite.

In the first formal exchange of live television shows across the Atlantic, European viewers also may see: Part of a major league baseball game in Chicago, South Dakota's Mount Rushmore Memorial, the Statue of Liberty in New York harbor, San Francisco's Golden Gate, Niagara Falls and the Seattle World's Fair.

Three hours later, if all goes well, American viewers will not have to leave their armchairs to see the art treasures of the Louvre in Paris, Michelangelo's paintings in the Vatican's Sistine Chapel, the Big Ben clock atop the Houses of Parliament, a glimpse of an opera in Rome and laplanders herding reindeer 50 miles below the Arctic Circle.

The two programs will run at least 15 minutes each and both will be televised in the United States by the three major networks, ABC, CBS and NBC. British television officials estimated 200 million persons on both sides of the Atlantic will watch the shows.

The American program starts across the Atlantic at about 3 p.m. (EDT), when Telstar is making its 12th orbit of the earth. The program will be transmitted from New York over coaxial cable to a ground station at Andover, Maine, and from there to Telstar.

The satellite, in turn, will broadcast two signals, one to a French receiving station in Brittany and the other to a station in Gorbilly, England. From these two points the program will be fed to the 16 nations of the European Broadcasting Union.

Critics of New Moscow Tests Slow

By DENNIS NEEDL

LONDON (AP)—Foreign critics of Moscow's decision to stage a new series of nuclear weapons tests mounted slowly today. Long-anticipated, the Sunday announcement brought few immediate comments from weekending officials.

The United States deplored the announcement as "disturbing news" at a time when the disarmament conference in Geneva "is seeking new approaches for an agreement on a nuclear test ban treaty."

The State Department said "the world need hardly be reminded" that the Soviet Union touched off new rounds of nuclear weapon testing last September when it broke a moratorium which had existed for almost three years.

The Moscow announcement did not say when the tests will begin, but it is assumed the first blast will be touched off in Siberia soon.

In Britain, the proposed new Soviet tests sent anti-nuclear pickets hurrying from outside the U.S. Embassy in London to the Soviet Embassy. The pickets had been parading in protest against the U.S. tests in the Pacific.

A group of young Britons said they hoped to recruit an international crew to sail a lifeboat into Leningrad harbor in September to protest the Soviet decision.

The liberal British newspaper Guardian urged that the West press for an agreement to end all further tests as soon as the new Soviet tests are finished. The paper said a Soviet claim to have an automatic right to test last is absurd.

THE DEATH EDGE

By ED LACY

The passenger sitting to my right on the dusty stage coach was a thin old man smoking a dark cigar. His lean face had the tan which comes from years in the blazing sun of Texas or Mexico. He was sporting two new and shiny six-guns in a wide silver-studded holster around his narrow waist. His boots were fancy, too, and he dragged his right leg.

"I'm Jack McKee — own hand City's only store."

"Sam Post, sir," he said, offering me a cigar. I turned him down—always like to know who I'm drinking or smoking with.

"Rand City — very small, one saloon, one store, one blacksmith—slim pickings for a gambler, Mr. Post."

My words amused him. I saw it in the cold eyes. "I'm not a gambler, sir, nor do I expect to remain in Rand more than overnight. I've come to kill Chud Bronson."

"Mighty tall job you've cut out for yourself, Mr. Post. Chud's good with a gun."

"Sir, any man who has lived sources described the Soviet decision as regrettable. A government spokesman said Japan will file a protest with the Soviet Union "in two or three days."

Meteorological officials said principal Japanese concern was whether the new test series would shower Japan with radioactive fallout as the Soviet tests last year did.

The Chinese Communist Peiping People's Daily hailed the Soviet decision as "a necessary measure to prevent imperialism from launching a calamitous nuclear war."

Sam drew his right gun, aimed it at Chud.

in the West for any time, can handle a gun about as fast as the next fellow—and I've seen all the famous gun-slingers in action. So it comes down to the edge."

"The edge? What's that, Mr. Post?"

"Means making the other man take a false move which will waste a split second. Since most gunmen are equally handy, timing becomes the big factor. Your fast gunner get by on their edge—their trigger is filed to razor sharpness, or they use a fall-away holster. Often they are kids, their movements faster."

"Being that Chud must be half your age, Mr. Post, what's your edge?"

"Figure I'm smarter than Chud. Be an idiot if I wasn't."

I didn't see Sam Post in Grand until evening when I was in the saloon for my usual late drink. Chud Bronson was playing poker with other loud cowpokes when Sam Post limped in. Smiling at me, he stood with his back to the bar, directly facing Chud at the poker table. Sam pulled out his right gun, aimed it at Chud, said softly, "Bronson, I've come to kill you."

The silence in the dusty bar was immediate. Chud climbed to his feet slowly, careful to keep his own right hand a respectful distance from the six-gun at his side. "Old-Timer, don't recall knowing you. Why you want to gun me?"

"Because you shot Ellena, in Rio. I shall shoot you in the belly not in the back—as you murdered her."

"Gun me down without a chance, and you'll swing, old man. Even here in Rand where there ain't a sheriff, you'll swing. Now mister, ain't no Mex gal worth hanging over, is there?"

Sam Post acted as if this was an entirely new idea. Thin face thoughtful he said, "I've avoided dying for many years, don't figure on going now—not for shooting a no-good murdering swine like you. Perhaps my temper has run away with my judgement."

Then Sam Post did a terribly stupid thing. He turned sideways to Chud, laid his right hand—the one holding the gun—flat on the bar, as if the pistol was too heavy. While Sam never took his eyes off Chud, it takes time to rise a gun held flat and at arm's length, plus Post would have to pivot on his bad right leg, too.

Giving Chud a split second break was like stooping to pet a rattler. Chud's had dropped to his gun. There was the short bark of a six-gun.

Chud staggered, fell hard across the poker table, dead, his gun still only half out of its holster.

And Sam Post was still standing sideways at the bar, his other gun smoking in his left hand. I know what he had meant by outsmarting Chud — and what had struck me as wrong before. Old Sam had neatly feinted with his right hand and right gun-laying them on the bar. All the time his left hand, unnoticed, was practically resting on his other gun!

Sam had never intended using his right gun. What had struck me out of place before was as I recalled, that Sam had handed me the cigar on the stage coach and was as left-handed as he could be.

Violent Death Toll Is 15

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Two unrelated, single-car accidents Sunday claimed the lives of two men and brought the number of persons dying violently in Arkansas during the week ended last midnight to 15.

Lloyd Evans, 16, of Eureka Springs, was killed when his car went out of control on State Highway 23 near Eureka Springs and overturned several times.

Jasper Willie Fields, 29, a Marion Negro, was fatally injured 10 miles north of Earle at the junction of state Highways 149-42.

State Police said Fields, driving west on Highway 42, attempted to turn on to Highway 149 and lost control of the car.

During the week, six died in traffic accidents, three by drowning, two were struck by trains; one by lightning, one was fatally stabbed, one was shot to death and one was crushed by a car falling off blocks in a garage.

Arkansan Killed

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—The death of Sgt. I-C John H. Forcht Jr., 31, of Camden, Ark., was announced by Army authorities Saturday. Authorities said Forcht died of encephalomyelitis, a disease of the brain and spinal cord, at a U.S. Army hospital Wednesday.

Angels Lose But Pick Up a Half Game

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Somebody down here must like the Angels.

Even when they lose, the Los Angeles Angels gain. They were finally stopped, 7-3 by the Cleveland Indians Sunday, after winning five straight. But they still picked up a half game on the New York Yankees, and now trail the American League leaders by three games. The Yankees surprisingly dropped both ends of a double-header to last-place Washington 3-2 and 8-3.

The Angels' lofty station defies all laws of mathematics. They are seventh in team batting, eighth in home runs, ninth in fielding and 10th in pitching (complete games) but second in the standings with 53 victories against 41 defeats.

Third-place Minnesota missed a golden opportunity to close in on the Angels, having to Baltimore 8-6 while Chicago's White Sox downed Boston's Red Sox 7-3 as outfielder Floyd Robinson had a record tying 6-for-6 at the plate. Kansas City whipped Detroit 11-3.

The Los Angeles Dodgers trounced Chicago's Cubs 13-0 to maintain their two-game bulge over San Francisco in the National League. The Giants edged Pittsburgh 5-4 and St. Louis downed Houston 3-1. Milwaukee swept a doubleheader from Philadelphia 11-10 and 5-2 while the Cincinnati Reds also took two-beating the hapless New York Mets 11-4 and 4-3.

Willie Kirkland and Jerry Kindall were the big guns as the Indians broke a nine-game losing streak. After being shut out on four hits by Los Angeles' Ken McBride Saturday night, the Indians broke out with 15 safeties against starter Don Lee and four relievers. Kirkland drove in three runs with his 16th home run and a single. Kindall batted in a pair with his 10th homer.

Right-handers Dave Stenhouse and Bennie Daniels went the distance against the Yankees and were given home run support by Harry Bright, Jim King and Chuck Hinton. Bright hit a three-run homer off loser Bill Stafford in the first inning to account for all the runs in the Senators' first game triumph.

The Yankees had won nine straight prior to the double debacle.

Robinson became the 22nd American leaguer to have a 6-for-6 day and the first since Joe DeMaestri did it for Kansas City July 8, 1955. Ed Delahanty is the only batter to collect six hits in a game twice. The major league record is Wilbert Robinson's 7-for-7.

U. S. Runners Dash Hopes of Russian Team

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

STANFORD, Calif. (AP) — The Soviet Union's track and field team came here with hopes high for defeating the United States' men's team only to have them dashed by the highest score run up by an American team in this international competition.

Uncle Sam's young men's squad, giving a solid outlook for the 1964 Olympics, scored 128 points to 107 for the Soviet team in this fourth U.S.A. U.S.S.R. competition.

The Soviets' Valery Brumel proved the individual star of Sunday's competition with a world record high jump of 7 feet 5 inches. In Saturday's opening events, Hal Conolly of the United States broke his own hammer throw world record with a heave of 231 feet 10 inches.

girls as they scored 66 points to 41.

Twelve meet records fell during the two days of the men's competition — nine of them by United States athletes. Among the women, three were set, all by Russians.

Coach John Oelkers of Tulane, head of the men's team, voiced pride with his squad and the outlook for the United States in international competition.

"Our '64 Olympic team will be great—this team is really young and our veterans will still be young enough, Oelkers said.

Soviet coach Gavriel Korobkov had termed this year's team the best men's group the U.S.S.R. had sent into the international competition. But as the Russians and Americans joined hands in the closing ceremonies, the U.S.S.R. men owned only three meet records, including Brumel's great high jump, and a double by Pyotr Bolotnikov in the 10,000 and 5,000 meter races.

Little Jim Beatty had set an American record of 3 minutes 39.9 seconds in winning the 1,500 meter race.

Other meet records for the men were:

5,000 meters, Bolotnikov, 13:55.4.

1,600-meter relay, U.S.A., 3:03.8.

On the relay team were Dave Archibald, California frosh, Ray Saddler, Texas Southern frosh, Ullis Williams, Arizona State frosh, and veteran Rex Cawley of Southern California.

Crawford to Be on Hand for Tourney

CAMDEN, Ark. (AP)—Richard Crawford, the pride of El Dorado golfing circles and former NCAA champ, scored a 3-1 victory over Sug Wilson of Hot Springs Sunday for the Ouachita Valley golf title.

Earlier in the day, the smooth-swinging Crawford, a member of the University of Houston squad, downed National Publix champion R. H. Sikes of Springdale 2-up to gain the finals.

Crawford trailed by one at the end of nine holes with Wilson but evened the match on a birdie putt on the 11th. He went 1-up on 14th and clinched the crown on the 16th. A birdie was added on the 17th for good measure.

In defeating Sikes during the morning round, Crawford fired a 4-under-par 68. He parred the 18-hole match with Wilson under a broiling sun.

Sikes won the Ouachita in 1960 and was a heavy favorite here after snagging his second straight National Public Links title two weeks ago.
